Two Boys Try to Emulate Example of Moving Picture Show Bandit.

Dr. Hearne's Automobile is Overtaken.

YOUTH IN JUVENILE COURT.

Inspired by the achievements of a moving picture show bandit, Lincoln Burkhardt, 16 years old, and Clev Oliver 14 years old, took a joy ride at the expense and worry of Dr. C. E. Hearne Saturday night when they assumed possession of his Maxwell runabout, No. 51, left standing in front of Ochsleberger's drug store, Sixth street and Broadway, and headed out the Benton road Burkhardt at the helm.

Both lads were caught yesterday afternoon a short distance from Palma, worn out and willing to return home and be good. After a six or seven lecture both were set free and Burkhardt was placed on probation for his future good behavior.

When Dr. Hearne came down from his office about 9:30 o'clock Saturday night his machine was missing and he decided that he had been made the victim of a malicious prank. He notified the police and all patrolmen were instructed to keep a lookout for the machine. Efforts to locate it that night were futile.

The two lads, said to have made up their minds to drive to Denver, struck the Benton road and passed Palma 18 miles from Paducah sometime that night or Sunday morning. When they reached a steep hill beyond Palma the clutch failed to respond and they turned back for Paducah. At Palma about 9 o'clock yesterday morning they were questioned as to who owned the machine, and when residents there threatened to telephone to Paducah, the two boys fled into the woods. License Inspector Philey was notified and he told chief of Police Sherry. Dr. Hearne was then informed of the whereabouts of his auto and accompanied by Messrs. Roy McKinney and A. J. Campbell, drove to Palma where Dr. Hearne took charge of his machine and came home.

On the way back, Mr. McKinney spied the two boys walking toward the city. They were bundled up in the machine and taken to police headquarters at 5 o'clock.

The Oliver boy was given a sound lecture by Night Captain John Dorian and he promised to be better hereafter. The Burkhardt lad was taken before County Judge Barkley this morning and released on condition that he lead the simple life hereafter. The boys had taken in extra gallons of gasoline with them and had they managed to get over the hill beyond Palma they doubtless would have left many miles behind by today. The machine was slightly injured.

1812 Heroes Honored. London, June 6. The window placed in the village church at Princeton as a memorial for American prisoners of the war of 1812 was unveiled today. The church stands on Hartmoor, a bleak stretch of tableland in the southern part of Devonshire and near the historic Hartmoor prison, where the American sailors were confined. It recently was restored by Americans, who also purchased the memorial window. The original stone chapel of Princeton was erected by the labor of the men, the memory of whom is preserved in the newer structure.

AMERICAN SOLDIER OF FORTUNE MAY BE SAFE

New Orleans, June 6.—Cables here from Port Moresby express doubt as to whether William Pittman, the American prisoner of the war of 1812 was captured by the Spanish. The story is that he escaped. It is believed Zelaya is financing the Spanish army. Madrid refused the proposal of Estrada to allow the United States to mediate in the trouble.

It is believed that if Estrada were sure Pittman was in the hands of the enemy he would make an official report to Washington, making political capital of the incident.

Quiquedo, Nicaragua, June 6.—A statement was issued by Estrada today that his peace offer to the Madrid faction will hold good for a limited period. If a satisfactory reply is not forthcoming he will direct his campaign against Managua.

Railroad Presidents Calling on Taft Today to Urge Him to Relent in His Prosecution of Tariff Case

Say No Combination in Legal Sense, Small Advance and Securities Are Hurt by Delay Caused by Suits.

Washington, June 6.—Three railroad presidents, E. H. Tipton, of the Santa Fe; S. M. Felton, of the Great Western, and F. A. Helano, of the Wabash, arrived here to confer with President Taft this afternoon to protest against the government's suit, blocking the increase of freight rates in the Mississippi river territory. Helano said that they would try to convince the president that the railroads hadn't changed the practice in vogue for fourteen years. He denied that the presidents of the roads acted secretly. He said the shippers have been given proper notice. Attorney General Webster today primed President Taft with the government's side of the case.

DISFIGURED BY JACK THE SLASHER

YOUNG ANDERSON ASSAULTED BY UNKNOWN PERSON IN STRANGE MANNER.

Clint Anderson, 18 years old, brother of Cleo Anderson, was attacked from behind at Wallace park about 9:30 o'clock last night and his face disfigured beyond recognition.

Anderson was in company with several boy friends and went to the park to spend the evening. While walking over the grounds some unknown assailant approached from behind in a dark spot and with a sweep of his knife slashed Anderson's coat across the back. Anderson, who was taken by surprise, turned to defend himself and was slashed across the forehead, right cheek, nose, right hand and across the breast. His clothes were cut to tatters.

CANNON AND SHERMAN MUST PAY AUTO KEEP.

Washington, June 6.—A deadlock developed today between the branches of congress on the question of having the government pay for the keeping of Vice-President Sherman's and Cannon's automobiles. An effort will be made to get an appropriation into the executive bill this session. The house is against and the senate for it. It was referred to the conference committee, which is unable to agree, and now it is probable Sherman and Cannon will have to pay the expenses.

YOUTH.

(By Elizabeth Newport Hepburn.)

Like silver sands betwixt your hands,
That softly, surely slip,
Like mellow music in your ear
Or kisses on your lip,
Now here, so fair, and now off there,
Like yonder fading ship.

Like flitting moments, golden glad,
Of Fame's Elysian day,
Like sudden show'r and summer shower's
And Neptune's airy spray,
Like splendid dreams where Primrose gleams
Th' inevitable Way.

Like children's mirth, clean as the earth
And swift as mirth to pass,
Like floating thistledown away
Above the meadow grass,
Like unmarred triumph gleamed in sleep—
Not otherwise, alas!

Graduation Presents

At no other time in the life of a boy or young woman is a substantial gift so appropriate, and no occasion merits a token of approval and encouragement more.

The proud day of graduation for a boy offers a suitable time for the gift of a Watch or a Fob or Chain or Ring.

For a young woman, a Diamond is most appreciated, but whatever the amount you can afford to invest, some selection from our Jewelry stock will please best and carry the most enduring remembrance.

Hard Luck, But—
Two young women went to the matinee. They could not get seats together, but were told at the box office that each could have an end seat, center aisle, in adjoining rows, and most likely somebody who came along and had a chair next to one of them would obligingly change seats. Near the close of the first act one of the young women timidly whispered to a heavy, middle-aged man at her side, who had been sitting stiffly and looking straight ahead:

"Are you alone, sir?"
The man bared one side of his face in his program and breathed: "Eh! Wife!"—Everybody's Magazine.

AT CHAUTAUQUA

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS WILL HOLD RALLY.

Cairo Class Invited to Attend Service Here on June 19, at 10 a. m.

On June 19, at 10 a. m., the Men's Bible class of the Broadway M. E. church, which numbers about 20, will hold its usual meeting under the Chautauqua pavilion at Wallace park. It being the opening day of the Chautauqua. The class so decided Sunday on the suggestion coming to the body from the executive board of the class. It was also decided to invite the members of all other men's Bible classes of the city and the big Cairo men's Bible class, and men in general to meet with them in grand rally of Bible students. Mr. J. A. Carnegy, teacher of the Broadway class, will talk to the gathering on Bible studying, and others will doubtless also be heard. The meeting will no doubt be full of interest and should attract a large number of men, all of whom should be interested in the studying of the Bible.

The executive board of the Broadway M. E. church Bible class is to hold a meeting tonight at 7:45 o'clock in the office of the church, to consider some matters of interest to the class. All members of the board are urged to be present.

Here's a beautiful genuine quarter-sawn oak (there are imitations of quarter-sawn oak; note that this is not). Sideboard—a fine, massive board; golden polished finish, with neatly carved top and base; two silver drawers, one lined; one long, linen drawer and large cupboard in base; beveled French plate mirror in top—a mighty handsome board, handsomely finished and thoroughly well made. It surely will look mighty fine in your new home. Going to have it, aren't you?

THE NEW HOME WILL WANT. THE BEST OF GAS RANGES THEN OF COURSE THE ONE WILL BE "BUCK'S"

Sanitary White Enamel Lined Gas Range

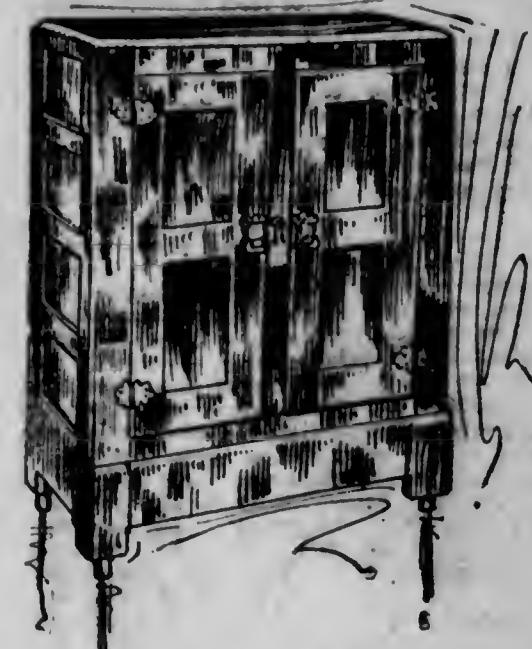

Longer service you will get from "Huck's" because the cast iron linings will not rust—better service because the white enamel oven and broiler interiors mean better baking and broiling, and always wholesome food, most economical service—for, by actual test, the burners have proven this. A "Huck's" then for your home?

Elegant, Massive Three-Piece Porch Set $9.50

No description that we might put upon paper would do full justice to this beautiful Porch Set. The set is composed of Settee, Arm Chair and Rocker. The frames are heavy and massive solid oak.

Just the thing for your new home—it will add much to its attractiveness. You want it, don't you?

$21.00 Porcelain Lined Refrigerator

This Refrigerator is well built of solid oak; nicely finished; ice capacity 120 pounds—46 inches high, 37 inches wide, 20 inches deep—has adjustable shelves. The interior is spotless white—porcelain lined—will not craze, crack or warp.

Stop and consider a moment—is there anything you use about the home of more importance than your refrigerator? Into it goes for preservation a large portion of the food you eat. Suppose your refrigerator does not properly preserve—that it is perfectly dry—that it isn't a cold interior.

Such conditions breed disease, and such is the case in a cheap, poorly-made refrigerator. The Gibson is not that sort—it preserves perfectly.

RHODES-BURFORD

214-216 NORTH FOURTH STREET

Auto Top Life Saver.

His automobile top probably saved the life of Hayes Dunn, 227 North Third street, about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon when his auto crashed into the iron post supporting the huge clock in front of Nagle & Meyers, Third and Broadway. The post broke off two feet from the base, precipitating the big clock directly on the auto top. Mr. Dunn, a gentleman, "Would your happiness," said an enterprising Italian journalist to the Grand Vizier at the time, "concern to the sale of Crete?" "Certainly," replied the Turk, "Any one can have it for the price we paid—twenty years' war." "Youth's Companion."

MONDAY, JUNE 6.

Daily Thought.

The greatest thing in the world is a good man, and all good flows out of the spring called a great heart.—N. McGee Waters.

It is significant that the roster of the Tennessee team in the Kite league contains Rainwater, Flood and Bridges.

Press dispatches say war will be made on Senator La Follette. That may do for convenience of expression, but if we know anything the senator from Wisconsin started the fracas.

The esteemed Henderson Gleaner congratulates The Evening Sun on its fairness in ascribing credit for the new capitol building to former Governor Beckham. May we speedily find the opportunity to return the compliment.

The Louisville Times publishes "some striking poses" of Swager Sherley, from which, were not the qualifying phrase, "a candidate for congress", added, we should judge he was a prize fighter; for he has his arms upraised, extended and outstretched in various ways, suggestive of either Roosevelt or Jim Jeffries in action, but his lips are firmly closed, showing that Mr. Sherley forgot to make motions with his mouth as if speaking, when he "posed" for the photographs.

SOCIALISM.

Representatives at Washington think President Taft is unduly alarmed about socialism, because of the success of the movement in Milwaukee. President Taft was not discussing the Socialist party; he was discussing socialism, that theory of economics which would abolish the anemic doctrine of equality of opportunity to exercise natural talents to the fullest extent of one's capacity, and place artificial restrictions on the initiative of those most capable of serving society. The socialist calls his cult practical Christianity; but the difference is subtle and can always be distinguished by the person in which charge against the wrongs of modern society are made. If one accuses society in the third person, as a critic standing off and viewing evils in which he is not a participant, he is a socialist. If he places the accusation in the first person, acknowledges his own short comings and own responsibilities, searches his own heart for the evils of the day and endeavors to work reform by starting with himself, he is a practical Christian. It's easier to be a Socialist.

WAR NOT ALL BAD.

Since peace talk has become fashionable it is customary to refer to the wars of the past as evidence of national depravity, disregarding the really valuable results of them. The latest contributor to the literature of peace is Chauncey Depew, who relates how McKinley would have settled our differences with Spain in 1898 without war if the country had not forced congress into the legislation. Yet, had such a settlement been made, today the Philippines would be extended to Japan, the trembling hand of Spain and to Rico would be the object of European desire as long as the ineffectual rule of the Castilians remained. Moreover, the great ethical movement, which is stirring this country today, our recognition of a responsibility to the whole world for national conduct, followed our assumption of the "white man's" burden in our island possessions. McKinley himself acknowledged the greater wisdom of Providence when he spoke of the assimilation of the Philippines and Porto Rico as our "manifest destiny." It was to be, and it was for the best. Our motives in fighting Spain arose from the noblest impulse in the hearts of a free people, to aid others to be free, and the results have been beneficial to the national conscience.

LEGISLATIVE BLACKMAIL.

The latest disclosures in connection with the Illinois bribery case bring to light proof of what every body acquainted with politics knows exists in nearly every state legislature, a conspiracy of members to blackmail the business interests of the state under cloak of reform. The modus operandi is simple. A combination is formed under leadership of state politicians, members introduce bills, placing new restrictions on railroads and other interstate, public service corporations of all kinds, certain lines of commercial and manufacturing business and the fishing industry to the number of scores. Then the leaders, well known to the lobbyists, are seen and an agreed amount is paid the leaders for killing the measures. This amount is distributed among the participants in the "jackpot" and bills, which have been referred to the proper committees, never see the light. Meanwhile, the "introducer" of the bill, possibly, has secured recognition at once as a great reformer, and he is not blamed for the fact that his bill is killed, while he is given a share of the bootie for his work. Of course, there are legitimate reform bills introduced. These can be distinguished from the "blackmailing" measures in two ways: in the first place, the character of the man sent to the legislature is generally known to his constituents, and his reputation and associations at home and in politics give him his standing. The nature of the fight made for the passage of the measure also indicates the amount of good faith behind it.

A fishing concern, engaged in the fish industry in Illinois, admitted that it has been contributing to the "jackpot" for 25 years for protection. We elect bums and crooks to the legislature and then blame the legislature and then blame the business interests for bringing the general assembly. We could with as good grace arm the same men and set them on the highway to hold up travelers, and blame the travelers for debauching our citizens. Turn where we will, we cannot escape the responsibility for all the crimes committed in our state legislatures. If we elect high class, decent men to office they will conduct themselves properly. There are enough of them in every legislature to prove this.

THE NEXT FIGHT.

With the railroad rate bill out of the way and the postal savings bank bill well in hand, the next fight in congress will come up on the conservation issue, and it promises to be the most bitter of all. There are two parties and a misunderstanding involved, and it would be best first to dispose of the misunderstanding. Conservation does not mean collecting the resources of the country, as Joseph gathered the grain of Egypt and stored it for a season of drought; but it does mean the economical use of the resources under government supervision, so as not to waste the fuel and coal or permit a monopoly of the water power or denuding the watersheds of their forest covering. Properly administered, the conservation policy should not at all interfere with the mining of coal and fuel and the cutting of timber, or the harnessing of the waterfalls. The supervision is merely to prevent waste and to prevent combined interests seizing the water sites and the coal and fuel deposits and holding them. There is as much danger that the untrammeled occupation of these valuable lands will prevent their use, as there is that they will be wasted in exploitation, since the Guggenheim syndicate has evinced an inclination to hold these power sites and fuel deposits until the country is in distress and it can extort the last penny for their holding.

Unquestionably there are fanatics, who would hold government land unused against all comers. These men are fretting the northwest, which wants capital and immigrants, and probably the conservation policy at the beginning did not work altogether smoothly—it would be exceptional if it did—and this has made it obnoxious. On the other hand there are the Guggenheims and their kind ready to fight with their millions every attempt to restrict them, and their activity casts suspicion on a conservative rational program, which is less radical than the fanatics could wish.

As usual the Taft smile will be in the center of the fight, appearing to each side to be turned toward the other; but the smile will triumph and conservatism and effectiveness will result.

FARMERS SHOULD ATTEND.

McCracken county farmers are requested by the Paducah Fair association to make preparations for the coming fall fair and races and begin work on their displays. The program is being gotten in form and will be announced soon and distributed far and wide. After the programs are issued they will be sent to the farmers and all those who do not receive one are asked to call upon Secretary Rodney Davis and secure one. The farmers of this county will add much to the fair and their displays are looked forward to with much interest. Livestock, farm products, preserves and jellies prepared by the wives of farmers will be on exhibition and prizes awarded for the best.

Commission Form of Government Has Been Adopted By Sixty Cities.

The commission form of government is becoming a national issue. Already some 60 cities, representing over 300,000 people have adopted its essential features. In Kansas alone cities have adopted the commission plan, in Texas 15, Boston, Buffalo, Topeka, St. Joseph and Memphis—all cities of over 100,000—have this form of municipal government.

Everybody's Magazine for June contains a story giving the experiences of some of the cities, and a resume of the experiences of all, from which the following is taken:

In Houston, the first year of the new plan showed that the saving effected had enabled the city to pay $400,000 of indebtedness, while the tax levy was reduced 20 cents on the $100. At the same time the public improvements effected were the greatest in the history of the city, and all the appropriations for such work exceeded the records. As one indication of the new order, I may mention that in one year Houston laid 64 miles of new street paving and paid for it without incurring a dollar's worth of bonds.

In Des Moines, the general disgust with the old method of government was so great that when the question of adopting the new was being agitated, placards appeared in the streets bearing only the words: "Can't We Do Any Worse Than This?" and all men knew and appreciated what was meant. After a year of the new plan, the Des Moines Register and Leader, a newspaper of conservative fairs, reviewing the advantages and disadvantages of the innovation, concluded that "Des Moines is, in fact, the most economically and most honestly managed city of its size in the middle west."

These experiments are young and may possibly be deemed not conclusive, but the following achievements of the new plan seem to be fairly well established:

1. It abolishes party politics from local affairs.

2. It eliminates the boss, the master and the political machine.

3. It views a municipality as a great business enterprise and provides accordingly for its effective management.

4. It recognizes definitely the failure of representative government and substitutes therefor a system of democracy; it recognizes the fact that there is no wisdom but collective wisdom.

5. It establishes direct responsibility for every public act.

6. It seems to be swift, efficient, economical and adapted to a rational community in the twentieth century.

7. It abolishes a raft of useless offices, sinecures, jobs, and political rewards, and substitutes organization method and work.

We have been so long deluded and disappointed in our municipal affairs that we may be pardoned if we look with some misgiving upon every experiment that promises relief. Yet about this are two facts, both fundamental, which may tend to reassure the timid: It is exactly in accord with the progress of democracy, and exactly in accord with the plainer principles of good business, good morals and good sense.

Meeting on the Causeway.

A misty form met a phantom flare on the causeway of lost souls, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I am the Flood," quoth the misty one.

"I am the Fire," quoth the other.

"I am the first destroyer!" roared the Flood.

"And I am the ultimate consumer," blazed the Fire.

Thus the Flood met the Fire on the causeway of lost souls.

An Apt Retort.

"On a crowded Wende Park car the other night a woman occupied two or three minutes of precious time in getting out her purse and paying her fare," says Frank Melbourne. "Finally in exasperation the conductor asked in a huff: 'Where did you learn to be so speedy?'"

"Perhaps," replied the woman, "it was in the same correspondence school wherein you learned to be so polite."

"And the conductor let it go at that,"—Cleveland Leader.

Hems.

There's no question about it.

We do not decide hem or not to

We simply have to be hemmed
this season.

And items are by no means the

No; a skirt hem may extend anywhere up to the knees.

And it may be of almost any

Or a hem was very likely to finish a full skirt.

Now it is the quaint band into which the fullness is gathered.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

A LINIMENT FOR EXTERNAL USE.

One of the most valuable qualities of Mother's Friend is that it safe-guards the future health of the mother. It is a liniment to be applied externally to the body, the use of which lubricates the muscles and tendons, softens the glands and ducts, prevents lumps forming in the breasts, and relieves the pain, nervousness, nausea, and other troubles from which so many expectant mothers suffer. When Mother's Friend is used regularly it fits and prepares the system for an easy and natural consummation of the term. Women who massage with this great liniment are always saved much suffering when baby comes, and recover more quickly, and without ill effects. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers.

CARAVAN CIRCUS

ROLLS INTO PADUCAH OVER MAYFIELD ROAD.

"Tented Pavilion" Erected at Wallace Park for "Three Day Stand."

The old-fashioned caravan circus arrived yesterday afternoon, coming in over the Mayfield road and stopping at once to Wallace park, where camp was made, and the circus people settled down for the night. Bright and early this morning, the "big top" was erected and tonight, Tuesday and Wednesday an exhibition of the real, one-ring circus of childhood days will be given under the "tented pavilion," where one may

TAFT URGES REBELLION OF TENNESSEE TO FIGHT GANG.

Nashville, Tenn., June 6.—In a letter to Col. A. M. Shook of this city, the Hon. Foster V. Brown, of Chattanooga, one of the most prominent Republicans in Tennessee, and United States attorney general of Puerto Rico, says he has seen President Taft and Mr. Hitchcock regarding the judicial situation in Tennessee.

Mr. Brown says they both agree with him that the independent Democratic candidates should receive Republican endorsement. He expresses the opinion that this endorsement will be given, declaring:

"If it is not done it will be because there are some people in the Republican party willing to betray it for whisky and money."

SHUNNED BY ALL THEIR FELLOWS

RODIYAS OF CEYLON MUST KEEP ALONE.

Their Dress Prescribed, and They May Not Own Land—Most Degrading

DOUBTS AS TO THEIR ORIGIN

There is in Ceylon a community of people who are, like the Indian pariahs, absolute outcasts from all society. They dwell in their own separate villages, remote from other habitations, and have no intercourse with the rest of the island folk. They are forbidden by immemorial custom to hold a single rod of land as private property; they are not permitted to follow any recognized trade or occupation; they may not cross a ferry or draw water from a well; if they meet another native on the road they must cower away to one side lest their proximity should pollute him.

They must not wear any garment other than a scanty cloth tied around the waist and reaching only to the knees, male and female alike; they must keep the upper part of the body bare, and if they are covered when they meet another native they must strip off their covering, for not to do so would be a deadly insult. They gain their livelihood, if they labor at all, by the most degrading of work, making ropes from the hides of cattle, an occupation abhorred from its ancient association with the hangman.

They also prepare the skins of monkeys for use in making the native drum or tom-tom. They are paid for these in kind. They deposit their handwork outside the houses of likely purchasers; if the ropes and skins are needed they are taken in and boiled rice is left in their place.

Naturally this people, living for centuries under a system so insulating, is in every way, says C. F. Plant in the Manchester Guardian, shameless and brutalized. Most of them live as itinerant beggars. They creep warily to the back of houses and, standing at the lawful distance call monotonously for alms. So deeply ingrained is the sense of degradation of these people and the contamination of their contact that not even the lowest servant will go near to turn them away. It is told of a Cingalese police officer that when ordered to arrest a Rodiya murderer he replied: "Impossible, but I can go near his handlet and shoot him."

The Rodiyas attend all places of festival, and especially the harvest home, and never fail to extort a contribution by their shameless importunity. The men are often well made and not ill favored, sometimes tall and of a pleasant light brown complexion. The women are, many of them, among the finest specimens of womanhood in the east. They wander about the country-side giving displays of dancing and juggling. Their moral code is very low.

Aided by English.

Of late years, under the British government this unhappy tribe has made some advance in material things, though the social stigma remains. Many of them have reclaimed pieces of waste land, raised grain and vegetables, and by selling their produce in the larger bazaars where European civilization has blunted the edge of old-time prejudices, have made enough money to buy a piece of good land from the Crown from the Crown, be it noted for no private person would degrade himself by having money transactions with these folks; nay, there has been much difficulty in many villages where the Rodiyas have bought land even from the Crown, for the villages have thought it an insult that a Rodiya should be a

The Oriental Idea.

Brahminical influences must not be lost sight of. Among Orientals in whose philosophy life was all misery and death a happy escape, the extreme form of punishment would not be death, but a continuation of life under conditions which should add to its misery by every conceivable means. So the Rodiyas would be the descendants of people condemned for various crimes to this form of punishment, and their ranks would be added to from time to time. There are, moreover, authentic records of cases where offenders guilty of high treason and similar crimes were cast out by the kings of Kandy to join the Rodiyas, their wives and families being cast out with them.

This would explain the fine physique of these people and the good looks of their women, for some of the best blood of Ceylon must flow in their veins, recruited as they have been from the ranks of treasonable nobles and fair but frail princesses. It has been thought, on the other hand, that the Rodiyas are the representatives of some foreign race, oppressed and degraded by their conquerors.

There is in fact a reference in the Malawanso, the Cingalese history of Ceylon, to a village of outcasts. In Ceylon in the fifth century A. D. of Hindu origin, and it is supposed that these people had immigrated from the coast of India and were of Chanda blood, a tribe so degraded that their shadow was pollution. So far, however, as physical tests are concerned there seems little to distinguish the Rodiyas from the rest of

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Black Duck, Minn.—"About a year ago I wrote you that I was sick and could not do any of my housework. My sickness was called Retroflexion. When I would sit down I felt as if I could not get up. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and did just as you told me and now I am perfectly cured, and have a big baby boy."—Mrs. ANNA ANDERSON, Box 19, Black Duck, Minn.

Consider This Advice.

No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial.

This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtues of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cures female ills, and creates radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as those you love, give it a trial.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

property owner among them and have harassed him in every way in the occupation and development of his purchase.

Fortunately in the courts of law the Rodiyas can gain an impartial hearing, though here too they are handicapped by the difficulty of obtaining witnesses to give evidence on their behalf. As regards education their condition is deplorable. They could not be tolerated in schools along with other children; their presence would be an abomination. Nor have they had any schools of their own until recent years, when a mission has started work among them. Under these circumstances they have had no chance of improvement; they have sunk lower generation after generation.

Now it is the intention of the government to make a determined effort to raise them. Their children are to be educated in properly organized schools established in their villages. They are to have opportunities of becoming landed proprietors, and efforts are to be made to teach them agriculture; and they are to be taught trades, too, and markets are to be found for what they produce.

In all transactions with government officials the Rodiyas are to be addressed by the usual pronoun "uncha" (you) instead of the offensive "tho" (thou); the women are to wear a covering over the upper part of the body. It is hoped that these efforts will begin to raise them from their degraded habit of life and place them on a higher plane, resulting in the end in their emancipation from their present position as utter outcasts from society.

The origin of the Rodiyas is lost in obscurity. Popular tradition among the Cingalese says that they are the descendants of royal huntmen who were banished and degraded for an abominable crime; they served up human flesh before the king on a day when they had been unsuccessful in the chase. There is no reason to think that this story is anything more than a myth having its natural source in a natural tendency to assume a terrible cause for so terrible an effect.

The Oriental Idea.

Brahminical influences must not be lost sight of. Among Orientals in whose philosophy life was all misery and death a happy escape, the extreme form of punishment would not be death, but a continuation of life under conditions which should add to its misery by every conceivable means. So the Rodiyas would be the descendants of people condemned for various crimes to this form of punishment, and their ranks would be added to from time to time.

There are, moreover, authentic records of cases where offenders guilty of high treason and similar crimes were cast out by the kings of Kandy to join the Rodiyas, their wives and families being cast out with them.

This would explain the fine physique of these people and the good looks of their women, for some of the best blood of Ceylon must flow in their veins, recruited as they have been from the ranks of treasonable nobles and fair but frail princesses. It has been thought, on the other hand, that the Rodiyas are the representatives of some foreign race, oppressed and degraded by their conquerors.

There is in fact a reference in the Malawanso, the Cingalese history of Ceylon, to a village of outcasts. In Ceylon in the fifth century A. D. of Hindu origin, and it is supposed that these people had immigrated from the coast of India and were of Chanda blood, a tribe so degraded that their shadow was pollution. So far, however, as physical tests are concerned there seems little to distinguish the Rodiyas from the rest of the Cingalese, while their language only differs in a few words peculiar to it which approximate mainly to the gypsy tongue, and it is easy to understand how an outcast people would pick up many words from a wandering tribe.

In considering the origin of the Rodiyas you cannot fail to be struck by the strange resemblance between their position in Ceylon and that of the Gagots and Caquenos in the Pyrenees and in the plains of Biscay, Polton and Guadalupe. There is hardly a point in which they differ. The Gagots and Caquenos dared not draw water from a public well, or touch the parapet of the bridge with their bare hand; their persons were contaminated, they had to wear shoes to protect the earth from pollution, and they bore a red mark on the shoulder to warn travelers of their identity.

Though allowed to become Christians, they had a separate entrance into the church, a separate bowl of holy water and a separate burial ground. Their descent is equally uncertain; it is thought by some that they were sprung from Gothic or Moorish oppressors, overcome and expelled from the pale of society for their past enormities; by others, that they were the representatives of alien religions, Atkins, Jews or Mohammedans, and loathed and abhorred religious toleration was incomprehensible.

WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR REMEDY

Grew a Full Growth of Hair on a Bald Head

Here's the Proof

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin, until the top of my head was bald. I used to shave my head and comb my hair, and it would not grow back regularly, would now have used just bathe. The whole top of my head was bald, and I was afraid to go out with it, and it keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep using it a while longer to notice a constant improvement.

"PROGRESSIVES" IN TWO DISTRICTS HAVE A CHANCE

Flight Has Been Waged With Great Bitterness on Congressmen Hull and Smith.

Des Moines, Ia., June 6.—Active participants in the primary campaign, weary with almost ceaseless scheming, were glad to be strict Sabbath observers. Everywhere, however, the claims of the Republican gubernatorial candidates, and those of the aspirants in the Seventh and Ninth congressional districts were eagerly discussed.

In the Seventh and Ninth districts, where Congressmen Hull and Smith are closely pressed by the "progressive" candidates, Judge Prouty and Attorney General Myers, and where the result will be considered as having a national bearing, the campaign will be waged up to the last moment before the primaries. Tuesday, both Hull and Smith, the latter particularly as a member of the Cannon rules committee, are regarded by the "progressives" as standing for all that is reactionary.

The fight has been waged with great bitterness. Hull adherents claim that their leader will win on his record of work for the district. He is credited with bringing the army post and a new postoffice to Des Moines, as well as being an able "getter" generally in behalf of his constituents. Judge Prouty, in a speech, declared that Des Moines had received nothing that was not coming to it; that a Democratic congressman could have secured all that Hull has and he abrogated his record on the tariff.

Governor Carroll has completed an automobile speed-riding trip and claims he will win on Tuesday by a majority of 25,000. Warren Garst, the so-called progressive candidate, makes a similar claim.

Stationary Engineers choose officers.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 6.—The state meeting of the National Association of Stationary Engineers was held here this morning with election of officers as follows: President, Frederick L. Ray, of Louisville; vice-president, Asst. William of Owensboro; secretary, J. L. Harpole, of Hopkinsville; treasurer, John H. Dole, of Owensboro; conductor, Calvin Carroll, of Louisville; doorkeeper, William Cummings, of Henderson.

The officers were duly installed by F. W. Itaven, of Chicago, national secretary.

Louisville was chosen as the next place of meeting to be held the first Friday and Saturday in June, 1911, and after adjourning the engineers went to Campbell's cave where an old-fashioned barbecue closed the festivities.

ARROW COLLARS

15c. each, 2 for 25c.

The "BELMONT"

with the "ARA-NOTCH"

THE "BELMONT" is the only collar that will sit like the illustration on every man—and the "ARA-NOTCH" is the new device that makes it do it.

The "ARA-NOTCH" locks the collar.

It eliminates the buttonhole that bothers.

It makes the collar easy to put on—and easy to take off.

See the Man Do It!

All this week, in our East Window, there will be a demonstration of ARA-NOTCH Collars which you will want to see.

WEILLES WIN

THEY TAKE TWO GAMES IN ONE DAY.

Defeat La Center 11 to 10 and defeat Keivill 3 to 2.

Two games were won yesterday by the Weilles at Keivill, when the LaCenter team was defeated by a score of 11 to 10, while in the second game the strong Keivill team was defeated by a score of 3 to 2. The first game was a slugging match in which the Weilles excelled. Switzer started in the box to the first game, but after pitching four innings, he bent his wrist and was compelled to sit, Swartz succeeded him, and ending good half. The features of game was the hitting of Wagner, Maura and J. Fuller, who lined out triples and stole home.

In the second game some seating was necessary to win. The team suffered its first defeat in the season. Keivill has defeated good teams this season, and it is probable that a return game will be arranged soon in the second game.

The Jinettes do a swell gymnastic act that makes you sit up and take notice.

Manager Desberger says he has a good show.

Mabel Elaine has a wonderfully clever singing and dancing act and the kind that brings forth the applause and makes you feel that you want more.

Frank Long will sing a new illustrated song and as usual two reels of motion pictures will also be given. The price of admission will be Admit 10, children 5c. A complete change of program will be given for Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The Weilles lined up: Wagner, catcher; Switzer and Hannan, pitchers; Evans, first base; Bourne, second base; C. Gouroux, third base; W. Meritt, short stop; R. Sneed, left field; J. Fuller, center field, and C. Miller, right field.

Next Sunday it is probable that the Weilles will play the Gobounds, all team.

Crappiehops idle.

Owing to the bad condition of the baseball diamond at Benton yesterday.

News of Theatres

At the Star.

Opening Monday, the new Vanderville bill at the Star theater will consist of Powers & Paulina, a ventriloquist act in which a dancing doll is featured, and a headliner on every bill they have played and much is expected of them when they perform here.

MEMORIAL HELD FOR THEIR DEAD

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS AND MASONIC WORLDMEN.

Former Present Ritualistic Service in Fountain Avenue Methodist Church.

THE LATTERING TO OAK GROVE

The annual memorial services of the Knights of Pythias lodge were held at the Fountain Avenue M. E. church Sunday evening. A large attendance of members of the order augmented the regular congregation and the church was well crowded and the special music was furnished by the church orchestra and a male quartet. A violin solo by Mr. Robert Pierce was the offertory, following the invocation and announcement of church services.

The memorial services of the order of K. of P. were carried out in detail, with Mr. A. E. Stein, who delivered the Pythian tribute in honor of deceased members presiding. Mr. A. E. Young read the roll of the dead, as follows: Gus Clark, L. D. Caldwell, James A. Bryant, Joe A. Bryant, John L. Powell, W. A. Gilliam, E. B. Jones, Andy Well, Jr., G. F. Robinson, Ed Gleidman, A. L. Well, C. J. Wilson, Harry Wheeler, J. M. Hunker, R. E. Stoddings, H. J. Hockhamer, W. H. F. Pelpar, Samuel Reeb, W. H. Sandusky.

Mr. A. J. Bamberg, as preside of the order, and was followed with a general reading by Mr. V. F. Moore. The memorial ode was sung by the members of the lodge. The sermon was delivered by the pastor, Rev. G. W. Banks and was about the love of man's immortality. He stated that the average life of man was sufficient to only develop a start in the accomplishment of divine purpose. A chemist, for instance, mastered one branch of four in 60 years; and how many chemists live 200 years? Man is immortal from the fact that God is immortal, and there is bound to be a life beyond.

He showed the wisdom of God by the comparisons of the creation of the eagle to utilize the vast area of space; the invention of the great iron-clad vessels to correspond to the infinite depths of water in the oceans. He asserted that man was too great to die, and closed with the expressed thought that the brothers who had gone before were not dead, but sleeping.

The beautiful custom of the order, that of depositing myrtle in honor of the deceased, was carried out. Accompanied with ritualistic ceremonies. A large wreath of evergreen, typical of sincere and lasting friendship, and a white calyx, emblematic of purity, were the offerings. While the members of the order were depositing the sprigs of myrtle, Mrs. Edgar tyle sang "Rock of Ages" impressively.

The services ended with a closing song and pronouncing of the benediction.

Modern Woodmen

Memorial services were held yesterday by the Modern Woodmen of America, and the graves of the departed members at Oak Grove cemetery were decorated. Several hundred people were present despite the cloudy sky. Headed by Deaf's hand, the members left the lodge room at the Three Larks building and marched to the Fountain Avenue Methodist church where the pastor, Rev. G. W. Banks delivered an address. At the church the members were met by the members of the auxiliary, the Arnholt and Hawaian camps, and they marched to the cemetery, where the ritual exercises were held.

The lodge members and Royal Neighbors met at the hall at the Three Larks building yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Woodmen marching in a body directly to the church. The ladies took care and upon their arrival the services began. Mr. A. J. Bamberg, local council, presiding. The services opened with a song, "Never My God to Thee," followed by a song, "Going Down the Valley One by One," given by the male quartet, composed of Messrs. J. W. Skelton, A. J. Bamberg, Charles Lassiter and Orie Slimmons.

The memorial address was delivered by the pastor, Rev. G. W. Banks, after which the lodge marched in a body to Oak Grove cemetery, where the ritualistic program was carried out. The graves of the departed brothers were beautifully decorated with flowers. Deceased members of the lodge in the past year are Mr. Henry H. Worley, of the M. W. of A., and Mrs. Armina Bards, wife of Joel Bards, of the Royal Neighbors. The lodge disbanded at the cemetery and returned home.

Especial mention is deserved by the orchestra at the Fountain Avenue church, led by Mr. Robert Pierce.

CHILDREN'S DAY

EXERCISES HELD AT THE CITY CHURCHES.

At Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian and Tenth Street Christian.

Children's Day exercises will be held by most of the Paducah churches next Sunday morning or evening. Yesterday two Sunday schools observed the day, the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church carrying out its program at the morning hour in place of the regular service. Special songs were sung by the children and there was no fixed program. The pastor, the Rev. E. H. Landis, talked with the children on the subject of "Vacation," which they are about to enjoy for the summer months.

Last evening at the Tenth Street Christian church the annual Children's Day exercises were carried out and were well received by a packed house. The children were dressed appropriate for the occasion, the entire Sunday school taking part. They were well drilled under the direction of the teachers. Following was the program:

1. Organ voluntary.
2. Song, "Brothers and Sisters Across the Sea"—My School.
3. Scripture reading (Matt. 28, 18-20; Mark 16, 15-16)—Fred Sud-
4. Prayer—Supt. J. K. Boudrant.
5. Song, Charles Jennings, Jr.
6. Song, "Volunteers to Front-It School."
7. Recitation, "The New Century"—Clara H. Belach.
8. Recitation, "Just Being Happy" Corena Morgan.
9. Piano duet Misses Jessie Whitmer and Opal Lennox.
10. Exercise, "Bright and Shining Lights"—Class of Miss Mabel Roberts.
11. Recitation, "What Have We Done Today"—Helen Darnell.
12. Song, "Valiant Soldiers" School.
13. Recitation, "A Child's Re-
14. Song, "I Must Tell You" School.
15. Recitation—Oscar Whitedge.
16. Exercise—Class of Mr. Hazotte.
17. Exercise—Mrs. Jennings' class.
18. Offering.
19. Closing song, Doxology.

First Baptist.

There were five additions to the First Baptist church yesterday and last night and one convert was baptized. Both services yesterday were well attended. The Rev. Mr. Doddlett today for Jackson, Tenn., to attend the commencement exercises of Union university.

First Christian.

A packed house greeted the Rev. W. H. Pinkerton, former pastor of the First Christian church at that church yesterday morning. The Rev. Mr. Pinkerton preached an effective sermon on the subject of "Jesus' Purpose to Save." An anthem was sung by the choir and Mr. Richard Scott sang in solo. No service was held last night. Tonight at 7:30 o'clock the official board will meet at 7:30 o'clock in regular monthly session. The Rev. Mr. Pinkerton will return to his home at Ghent, Ky., tomorrow night. At the regular prayer meeting Wednesday night the pastor, the Rev. W. A. Flite, will begin his third talk of the series, "Wise men of the Bible." He will discuss Rehebeca.

German.

The attendance at the German Lutheran church on South Fourth street, was large at both services yesterday.

Third Street.

Two good services were held at the Third Street Methodist church yesterday. In the morning the pastor, the Rev. J. B. Pearson, preached on the subject of "Quenching of the Spirit." Last night he preached on the subject of "The Request of the Young Man for His Portion of the Inheritance." Children's Day exercises will be observed next Sunday. This afternoon at 2:30 the Home Mission society met at the church.

First Presbyterian.

A large congregation was present at the First Presbyterian church yesterday morning while the church was taxed to its capacity for the baccalaureate sermon to the graduates of the Paducah High school. The regular monthly meeting of the Session will be held at 8 o'clock this evening in the pastor's study.

At the prayer services Wednesday evening the Rev. H. W. Burwell will continue his talk in the study of the Lord's Prayer. Next Sunday is communion and the new individual service will be used for the first time. June 19 is Children's Day.

Broadway Methodist.

Services at the Broadway Methodist church yesterday were quite interesting. Splendid congregations greeted the pastor. "Individual Inspection" was the theme of the morning, and "Spiritual Discovery" the subject of evening sermon. The High class had present 30 members and several new names added. Next Sunday is Children's day, and great preparations are being made to make the occasion quite interesting. Two applications were taken for church membership, and the singing was spirited and good. John F. Hobson sang the offertory at the evening service.

Church Notes.

The executive committee of the Bible class will meet this evening in the parlor of the Broadway Methodist church at 7:45. The Protestant Pastors' association will meet tomorrow, in a.m. at the Broadway Methodist church instead of the park as heretofore announced. Rev. W. A. Flite will discuss "Qualities of Effective Preaching." The laymen are cordially invited. The cooperation with the Chautauqua directors will be discussed; also the union services in October. A full attendance is requested by the president.

NOTICE TAXPAYERS.

The city tax-bills for 1910 have been made out and turned over to me for collection, and are now due. By coming now you will avoid having to wait your turn, as is usual the last few days of the month during the rush. Respectfully,

GEO. W. WALTERS, Treasurer.

COUNTY TEACHERS

EXAMINATIONS HELD LAST WEEK.

Names of Those Who Successfully Passed Before the Board.

Late Saturday night the county examiners finished grading the papers of the candidates for the county teachers' certificates. The examiners worked hard all day Saturday, and finished the work by lamplight. The examiners are: Mrs. A. Hill, Prof. W. H. Sugg and Superintendent L. W. Frazee. The successful ones are: Miss Pearl Hendley, Rosalie Billington, Eddie Tucker, Addie May King, Irene Scopos, Lorraine Gholson, Elizabeth Adams, Bette Calahan, Ruby Black, Ruth Ross, Happy Adams, Lavelle Page, Ellis Stark, Zena Hawley, Addie Murrows, Meresa W. A. Middleton, C. C. Gates, Carl Edwards, H. H. Schaeffer, T. V. Williams and G. R. Lee.

TAX COLLECTION WILL BEGIN FIRST OF MONTH.

July 1 Sheriff George House will begin the collection of state and county taxes. To the majority of the tax payers the later the better, but there are some citizens who have already called at the office and are anxious to pay their taxes. Considerable rivalry exists as to who will receive the honor of receiving the first tax receipt.

Sheriff House was delayed several weeks this year in making out his tax bills awaiting the decision of the state board of equalization on the increase of the assessment of the county. Deputy Sheriff George House and Captain Joe Wood, who assisted in making out the city tax bills, are hard at work on the blanks. The bills will be made out this month and the collection will begin July 1.
